SEN Team re-organises

Enfield Council SEN Team has re-organised to strengthen its capacity. With additional team members, they hope to respond in a timely manner to queries of parents and young people.

When parents are assigned their respective Advisory Officer, they should contact that officer for all queries in the first instance. Parents are also advised to send paperwork relating to EHCP to the main SEN email address to ensure that is picked up by an officer in the team if the Advisory Officer is absent. If parents want to escalate any queries, they should email the main email address and the case will be allocated to a senior officer.

Useful number and email below:

- For general queries, the number to call is 020 8379 5667.
- All emails containing paperwork in relation to an EHCP or email to escalate any queries should be sent to: sen@enfield.gov.uk

SENDIASS Consultation

Enfield Council consulted with parents of children and young people with Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) on 9th and 12 September to hear their views on how the information, advice and support service is delivered, what currently works well, and what could possibly work differently.

The council would like to take into account the views of the parents as they develop the service specifications for the SEND Information, Advice and Support Service which will be put to tender soon.

If you have suggestions but missed the consultation events, you can email Caroline Fanning, Service Development Manager.

Parents' and Young People's Engagement

Young People's Steering Group

We are pleased to announce that we have launched our Young People's Steering Group. The group met for the first time on Wednesday 21st September.

They discussed their role in the service which includes advising us on how we can better access and support young people with Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) and agreed on their group rules.

They will undertake some training to prepare them for their role and we hope that the skills and experience will also be useful for them to apply in other situations. They will meet every last Wednesday of the month.

The group welcomes other young people with SEND to join them. If you are a young person or know any young person who might be interested in taking part, please speak with Natalia Sali.

Tel: 020 8373 6281 or 020 8373 6273 or email: Natalia.Sali@enfieldparents.org.uk

Our parents' steering group promotes our service

Our parents' steering group have just produced a new leaflet intended for parents whose first language is not English. The leaflet has information on SEND Information, Advice and Support translated into community languages including Turkish, Polish, Somali, French, Arabic and Portuguese. With the new leaflet, we hope that information about SENDIASS and IS will be more accessible to community residents.

The steering group is also assisting us in promoting the service across Enfield by distributing leaflets in local GP surgeries, schools, and different settings visited by parents and young people.

The group meet once a month to advise the service on how the services can be improved and how more families can access the service. We continue to welcome interested parents and young people who would like to join the group.

You will learn the types of exclusion, legislations relating to exclusions, and how to work with the school on the decision to exclude your child/young person.

Civil Legal Aid still available for SEND Anything relating to SEN and Education, Health and Care Plans (EHCP) for a child or young person with SEND is within the scope of Civil Legal Aid (CLA).

Individuals can be referred to the CLA and should make it clear that their child has a Special Educational Need or Disability to ensure they get through the gateway. The case will then be allocated to one of the specialist firms who will check it is eligible for legal aid and meets the criteria.

To find out if you are eligible for legal aid, please see this link:
